Candidates have to:

- MAKE A DOCUMENTARY RESEARCH on a similar example existing in their region, country or neighboring country. The studied examples must be contemporary.
- Each of them will have to be located in its geographical environment and its economical, social and historical context.
- These studies are considered to be very important because they will help to start the discussions with visualized references; they constitute the basis for the selection of the applicants.
- The presentation of these documents will have to be precise. The examples should be visually supported; they will have to be illustrated with clear sketches, photos, slides, plans on A3 paper (limited to 4 papers) and electronic copy (Word or PowerPoint), 2-3 pages of explanations.
- The study will approach all the scales for the best understanding of the analysis; the general data will be very brief.
- These documents will be presented at the beginning of the session: they should be of high quality.
- These documents may be used in a public exhibition. The documentary researches, plans and projects, will be the property of the International Workshops and may be printed.
- STUDY THE POSSIBLE TOWN AND LANDSCAPE PLANNING ANSWERS OF THE THEME OF THE YEAR
- The whole study must be integrated to the university programmer of the school or the university under the supervision of a teacher (or a professional in case of individual participation).
- The study can be done in collaboration with students of other disciplines (Schools of engineering, arts, landscape planning, town planning, geography, urban economics). In order to make a COMMON PROJECT if the school considers that it is possible because of its location and its former working habits. Common projects will be done anyway during the Workshops of Irkutsk where all these mentioned disciplines will be represented.
- These documents will be the basis on which the pedagogical jury will select the best preliminary works for an actual participation in the session.
- The selected candidates will then receive by fax a CONFIRMATION OF THEIR REGISTRATION before 15th December/2011
